BULGARIA REVOLTS.

Prince to Proclaim Independence.

Ferdinand Announces He Will Assume Title of Czar Today.

Turkey not Expected to Be Acquiescent, and War May Follow.

Austria Seeks to Retain Herzegovina and Bosnia.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
LONDON, Oct. 4.—Events which threaten to change the political face of Europe are crystallizing with lightning rapidity. Almost overnight the horizon of the near east, which seemed gradually assuming a peaceful appearance, has become crowded with war clouds. News has reached here from several sources that two definite strokes are impending which cannot fail to bring matters to a crisis and perhaps force an immediate war. One is the proclamation of Prince Ferdinand of the independence of Bulgaria, which will include Roumelia, taking for himself the title of Czar. The other is an announcement by Austria-Hungary of the practical annexation of the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina as appanages of the Austro-Hungarian crown. Their action will be equivalent to the tearing up of the treaty of Berlin while Prince Ferdinand's course seems almost certain to precipitate a war between Bulgaria and Turkey.

FAITH IN ARMY.
The Bulgarians have faith in their army, which has reached a high state of efficiency, although it is perhaps lacking in officers, and the war, for which Bulgaria has long been suspected of preparing, could be fought with more advantage for her now than later on.

SEEKING ACQUISITION.
While Austria's action with regard to the two provinces may not technically be called annexation, it is believed it will amount to that, whatever it may be called. Apparently the Emperor is determined that the destiny of these provinces shall be Austrian, not Turkish. For thirty years they have been administered by Austria-Hungary, but they have always remained theoretically Turkish territory and Austria pledged that her administration should not derogate Turkish interests. The British government has made proposals to the two countries looking to the settlement of the railway case and the other powers have given support to the plan which contemplates the temporary restoration of the railway to Turkey, "to save her face," and then transfer the province to the company to the Bulgarian government.

CRISIS ABSORBS FRENCH NATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
PARIS, Oct. 4.—The French government is absorbed in the Balkan crisis. Official advice which have been received here leads the Temps to announce that at Timova tomorrow Prince Ferdinand, the reigning Prince of Bulgaria, will proclaim the independence of Bulgaria, and will assume the title of Czar of the Bulgarians. "Roumelia will be included in the proclamation," says the Temps, "but probably Turkey will not acquiesce and a Turkish-Bulgarian war is, therefore, likely. The only thing to interfere with this programme is Prince Ferdinand's possible hesitation at the last moment, but this morning his resolution appeared to be definite."

AMERICAN PUBLIC OWNS CORPORATIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Who owns the corporations? The "man in the street," whose financial education is gained from newspaper headlines and campaign cartoons, is forced to believe that a little coterie of plutocrats carry the ownership of the corporations around in their waistcoat pockets. But the hard cold facts, as shown by the stock books of the great railroads and industrial of the country, show that there are 2,000,000 partners in American corporation enterprises, and that there are 20,000,000 persons whose savings are invested in these companies.

NATIONS WILL MEET HERE.

Future of City Painted in Glowing Colors.

To Be Commercial Entrepot for Many Countries.

Barrett Gives Reasons for Golden Prophecy.

That Los Angeles, the commercial center of the Pacific Southwest, is entering upon a period of vast expansion that will place her among the cosmopolitan cities of the world, is the profound conviction of John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of American Republics, a diplomat of international reputation and a close student of commercial history.

"I have watched the growth of this city with great interest," he said at the Alexandria last night. "Inasmuch as my first official residence was in California and my last here, I have carefully noted the growth of the entire Coast and of this particular section. I have paid special attention to the part this city will play in our great foreign commerce. I have always looked upon Los Angeles as ideally located, not only as the commercial entrepot for business with the Orient and other countries in the Far East, but also with respect to her relation with her Latin-American neighbors to the South. With fine railroad facilities and a splendid harbor close at hand, an agreeable climate, and a hospitality which appeals strongly to foreigners, it has a splendid future before it in foreign trade relations."

Mr. Barrett said that this part of the State has a magnificent opportunity for extending its export business. Comparing the Los Angeles of today with the city as it was twenty years ago, he said that its growth was almost beyond comprehension. "But besides its standing as a city of homes, a resort for tourists and a place of great manufacturing and commercial activity, Mr. Barrett asserted that its citizens must also be prepared to take its rightful place among the great cities of the country with trade extending into all parts of the world and with an interchange of products with the republics on the west coast of South America."

MEETING PLACE OF NATIONS. He believes that this city will become a meeting place of the business men of the South and Central American States will pass their vacations and order goods. Hereafter, he says, the tendency for the Latin-Americans has been to go to Europe, but now the ease of travel can be diverted to this section with a little well-directed effort on the part of the commercial bodies, backed by the jobbers.

Mr. Barrett can speak with authority in regard to trade relations with South American republics. He has been United States Minister to Argentina, Panama and Colombia; delegate of the United States to the second Pan-American conference in Mexico, and commissioner-general for foreign affairs at the St. Louis Fair. He was one of the speakers at the National Irrigation Congress, which met last week at Albuquerque, N. M., and after speaking at Throp Polytechnic Institute in Pasadena this morning and at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, he will go to San Francisco to deliver an address before the delegates to the Trans-Mississippi Congress. From there he travels north to Portland, where delegates of the commercial bodies of Oregon will be his auditors. He will confer with exporters of goods at Seattle in regard to the Central and South American exhibits at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition before returning to his home in Washington, D. C. His lecture at Throp will be at 10:30 o'clock this morning on the topic "Our New Responsibilities as a World Power and What It Means to the People of California."

At 1 o'clock this afternoon he speaks in assembly hall, Chamber of Commerce, on "Southern California's Opportunity in Latin America." The lecture is given under the joint auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Manufacturers and Manufacturers' Association. All citizens have been given a general invitation to attend and the committee of arrangements is especially desirous to have a strong representation of jobbers and manufacturers present.

BUREAU HISTORY. The International Bureau of the American Republics, of which Mr. Barrett is director, was established in 1890 in accordance with resolutions passed at the first international conference, held in Washington and presided over by the late James G. Blaine, then Secretary of State.

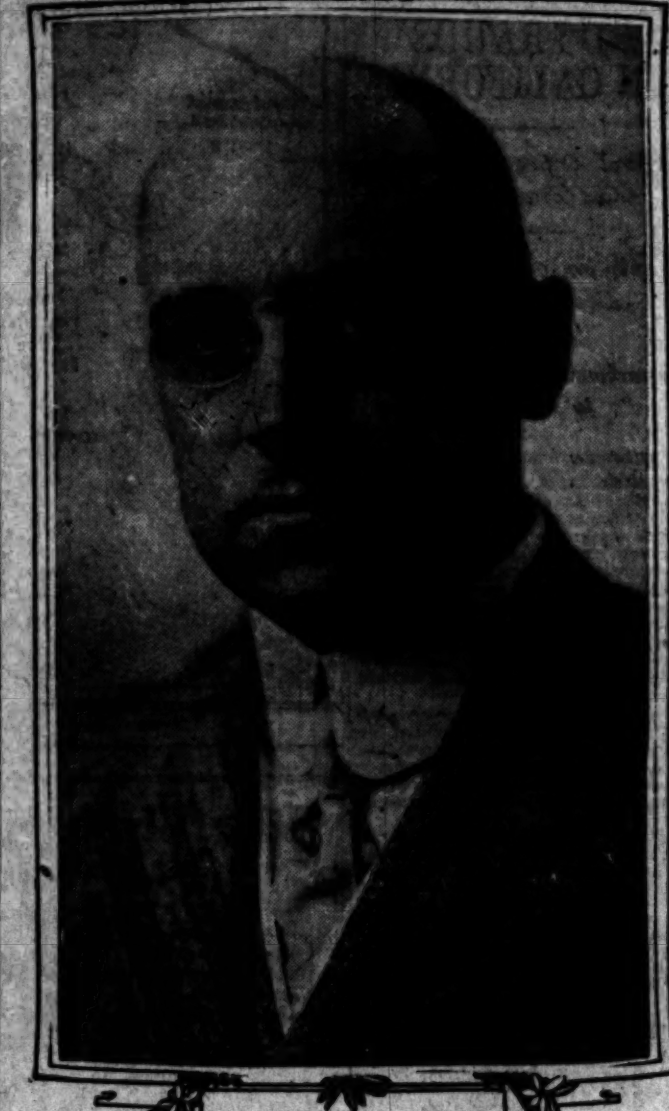

It was continued, by resolutions adopted at the second conference, held at Mexico City in 1901, and again, with enlarged scope, at the third conference, held at Rio Janeiro in 1904, when Ellis Root, Secretary of State, was present.

Since its organization the following have been directors: William E. Curtis, the correspondent; Clinton F. Bush, Joseph P. Smith, Frederic Emory, W. W. Rockwell, now Minister to China; William C. Fox, Minister to Ecuador. Mr. Barrett was appointed last year.

The general objects of the International Bureau are to develop commerce and promote closer relations between the Latin-American republics. It keeps in touch with manufacturers, merchants and exporters for the purpose of aiding in the building up of trade among the republics. It also furnishes newspapers, magazines and universities with information about the Central and South American States.

The bureau sends out over 15,000 pieces of printed matter every month and issues a bulletin which contains all the latest information in regard to commerce, laws, and general development of each State.

REPUBLICS SUPPORT IT. The director is the chief administrative officer and is chosen by the governing board. He is assisted by a secretary, chief clerk, editorial staff, statistical experts, translators, stenographers and subordinate clerks. For sixteen years the office has been on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, directly north of the State, War and Navy building. The Columbus Mem-head of the International Bureau of the American Republics, who reached Los Angeles last night and who will speak at the Chamber of Commerce today in support of closer commercial relations between Southern California and Latin America.

He has a large collection of literature relating to the republics and now has 14,000 volumes on its shelves. Work has been begun on a new building on the Van Ness Park site, for which Andrew Carnegie gave $750,000, and the Latin-American States $250,000.

PLANS BIG NEW EXPRESS DEPOT.

WELLS-FARGO COMPANY WILL BUILD NEAR ARCADE.

Vice-President Christianson, Here on Tour With President Evans of New York, Tells of New Structure for Large Site on Central Avenue, Close to Southern Pacific Station.

Dudley Evans, president of the Wells-Fargo Express Company, accompanied by A. Christianson, vice-president and general manager of the company, passed through Los Angeles yesterday, en route from San Francisco to El Paso on a tour of inspection. Mr. Christianson made the new announcement that the company will build a new express depot here at once.

"We have bought four lots near the north end of the Arcade Depot," he said, "also the rights to a strip of land forty feet wide by 200 feet long facing on the Southern Pacific tracks north of the depot."

"The plans for the new building have not been drawn, but it is understood that the new depot is to be two stories high and will cover all of the four lots. The lower floor will be finished as a handling room, with a wide space for teams. The upper floor will be used for offices, and a portion as a storage room."

"We have been going around the edge of things," said President Evans. "Beginning at St. Paul, we visited Seattle and Portland. Then we went to San Francisco. Today we are here for three hours to look over the ground for some prospective improvements, including the new express depot on Central Avenue. We go from here to El Paso and thence to the City of Mexico. The Wells-Fargo is the only express company doing business in the United States and Mexico. Our progress in the latter country is remarkable. We have secured the express rights over the new Tehuantepec National Railway and we expect that in a short time we will be quoting express rates all over Mexico, Guatemala and Central America, direct to our own offices."

Col. Evans has been with the Wells-

Fargo Express Company for forty-two years. His headquarters are in New York City. He left on the Sunset Limited for El Paso.

HAND-OFFERED THE FALLEN.

At First Meeting Since His Return, Murphy Pleads for Women in Broad Path.

William Murphy held his first meeting since his return from the East, at Blanchard Hall last night, and a very large and enthusiastic audience greeted him. Five lawyers had seats on the platform and a host of others were present.

Mr. Murphy, who leaves today for a temperance campaign in San Diego and San Francisco, spoke of his late father, the great "apostle," Francis Murphy, Jr., and with splendid effect a baritone solo and Mrs. E. H. Dorn contributed a vocal number that was much enjoyed.

William Murphy, in his address, reached the hearts of his auditors with his wit, eloquence and earnestness. He told graphically of the wages of sin, and pleaded that the fallen women of Los Angeles be given the opportunity to return to the better life, instead of being treated as outcasts and beyond redemption. This evoked thunders of applause.

PERSONAL.

State Senator G. W. Cartwright of Fresno is a guest at the Angeles. S. Heyman and family of San Francisco are at the Westminster for a few days.

Hawkins of Chicago is registered at the Angeles. Mr. Hawkins was a pioneer of Santa Clara county and passed his boyhood in San Jose. He will visit his old friends there before returning East.

J. M. O'Rourke, a wealthy land owner of Roosevelt, Ariz., and his son are passing a few days in this city, guests of the Lankershim. Mr. O'Rourke is a well-known mining man of Goldfield, and O. B. Wilcox of Colorado Springs are at the same hotel.

UNUSUAL.

CAR TURNS TURTLE; FIVE ARE INJURED.

FOR a heavy electric car to suddenly flip upside down is unusual, yet that is what car No. 157 on the Colegrove line of the Los Angeles Pacific did just one block west of Sunset boulevard yesterday morning.

The passengers and crew had a remarkable escape from a car which turned turtle. The accident followed the breaking of a front axle. The conductor and motorman escaped without a scratch and only five of the passengers were injured.

These hurt are: Frank O. Sundquist of Colegrove, whose middle finger on the right hand was amputated by broken glass. He also sustained a severe laceration of the scalp and was taken to the Sisters Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Goodrich and their two-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, of No. 1915 Santa Monica avenue, all of whom sustained lacerations from broken glass. They were removed to their home. A slight laceration from broken glass.

IMMANUEL'S HAPPY EVENT.

Presbyterians Mark Passing of Twentieth Year.

Three-quarters of Million Spent in Its Work.

Dr. Walker Reviews History of the Big Church.

Immanuel Presbyterian Church is celebrating its twentieth anniversary. Throughout the coming week will be held various meetings of interest to all who are or have been in this church. Yesterday's worship was rendered memorable by Rev. H. K. Walker's historical sermon, "The Past Twenty Years of the Church," in which he reviewed the work of the past two decades. During that period, he said, 4100 members had added their names to the roll and 1134 had stood before the altar and had confessed faith in Christ. In the 1914-15 fiscal year, the church expended, being $200,000 for congregational expenses and $175,000 for various benevolences.

In all the facts on which Dr. Walker dwelt there was a note of self-satisfaction or congratulation for the congregation. Rather, it was a record of indebtedness to the church spirit, a testimonial to the power of Christianity.

The future, he said, is still before us and therein we are to find our chiefest work—however well we may have labored, as a church, in the twenty years now rounded in the past.

The church was crowded and in the large congregation were a number of men and women who had seen the first church, started twenty years ago under the leadership of the late Rev. W. J. Chichester, D. D., whose little struggling congregation met in Heaton College Hall. Delightful days, they now seen, in looking backward, for everywhere was the spirit of self-sacrifice and nobility love, Dr. Walker explained.

Dr. Walker dwelt particularly on the wealth of the women's influence in the church, and the most laudable Presbyterian Church. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, and a holiday aspect. Dr. Chichester's bronze memorial tablet was unveiled with ly.

The service was assisted by Mrs. Webb, violinist; Miss Helen Thresher, violinist; Miss Alice Crawford and Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, organists.

LIKE SOLOMON'S TEMPLE.

Dr. Walker's text, II Corinthians, viii, 1, referred directly to the building of Solomon's Temple. "And it came to pass, at the end of twenty years, that Solomon had built the house of the Lord and his own house."

Dr. Walker called attention to the parallel between the modest Immanuel Church and the historic temple of King Solomon, declaring that, whatever difference there may have been in worldly grandeur, at least the two were proportionately similar in spirit. Continuing he said:

"Twenty years! Memory is very busy, today, with some of us! I will try to catch some of the pictures that are moving through the minds of some of those who were here last night. There is a fine looking old church downtown in this city of the Angeles. The time just passed was a beautiful. A great throng has entered the church. Every part of it is crowded. The minister, who has been a number of years preaching the old gospel from this pulpit in fresh, convincing fashion, comes in and at last the announcement of a purpose which had been wrought out in the very soul of this faithful and conscientious minister falls upon the ears of the waiting congregation."

"This was the purpose of it all! The church was overflowing. Various plans had been proposed for remodeling the situation, but in vain. Now the pastor was going out and if there were any who cared to go with him there would be a new church organ and so it came to pass that on that day the Rev. William J. Chichester presented his resignation as pastor of the old First Church of Los Angeles and shortly after Immanuel Church was born."

BIRTH OF NEW CHURCH.

"And it was well born. A Sunday school, which had been fostered by the old church, was ready to be merged into the life of this new Immanuel Church. The time just passed was a beautiful. A great throng has entered the church. Every part of it is crowded. The minister, who has been a number of years preaching the old gospel from this pulpit in fresh, convincing fashion, comes in and at last the announcement of a purpose which had been wrought out in the very soul of this faithful and conscientious minister falls upon the ears of the waiting congregation."

"The most delightful harmony prevailed; the people had come to work and to sacrifice. The Woman's Missionary Society was promptly organized under the leadership of that wonderful missionary, Rev. H. K. Walker. Mrs. Mary T. Miner, and almost immediately secured the support of Miss Amy Saxton, now Mrs. Fulton, as a foreign missionary. And shortly after the Woman's Aid Society, with that splendid leader, Mrs. Ayres, at its head, came into existence."

RED-LETTER DAY.

"On the second Sunday in January, 1891, the congregation entered their new church home at the corner of Tenth and Pearl (now Figueroa) streets. Its communicant list numbered more than five hundred souls. That was a red-letter day. The papers of January 12 gave glowing accounts of the beautiful building, the great throng that crowded the church to the doors, and the eloquent sermon by Rev. Dr. Carrier of Santa Barbara. The church was calling him."

"It was a very lovely home in which the congregation now worshipped. The furnishings which had been purchased by the good women of the church, were all that could be desired—from the standpoint of artistic taste and grandeur. A very handsome Jardine organ had been installed, the gift of A. S. Robbins and Mrs. Spencer Evans and beautiful memorial windows, the loving gifts of friends in Los Angeles and other places far away. And so the years went by, unbroken in peace and prosperity. Occasionally there would be disturbing rumors that the popular and much-sought-after minister was being overruled by other congregations to change his field of labor, but it was not until the summer of 1897, six years and a half after the church was dedicated, that the blow came, which many had been for a long time dreading. Dr. Chichester was really going away. The First Church of Chicago, that old-time citadel of the Presbyterian church in the old Middle West, was calling him.

FLATTERING GROWTH.

"In the meantime, the church had on its rolls more than twelve hundred members, and had arisen in nine years to be the largest Presbyterian church in the city of California, a position which it has ever since maintained. But now, although the beloved Chichester—the founder of the church and everybody's friend—had gone, the church must still go on. And so it came to pass that on the 8th of October, 1897, the present pastor was given an unanimous call, and shortly after, on the first Sunday of December, entered upon his work. It is the most laudable monument to the worth of the spiritual work of the first pastor that the congregation has ever given, and a hearty support to his successor."

Under the leadership of men like W. E. McVay and John J. Akin, both of whom had been with Immanuel almost from the beginning, the church secured from its members a gift amounting to over $7000, for the Central Presbyterian Church, with which they paid half of the purchase price of their lot on Hill street, now valued at many times the amount paid for it—the most valuable piece of real estate owned by any Presbyterian congregation in Los Angeles. It was in the summer of 1892 that Mrs. Mary J. Chichester made her generous gift of $18,000 for enlarging and rebuilding the Sunday-school, which had now far outgrown its quarters. In connection with this splendid work, the congregation rose up one Sunday with several thousand dollars subscribed for improvements and refurbishing in some degree of the main auditorium.

DATH OF BIG THING.

"The next spring, in 1903, the General Assembly met in the church and great days they were in our Presbyterian Israel. Thronging, such as we had never seen anywhere before in Los Angeles, crowded the church for ten days and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. It was during this assembly, that O. T. Johnson came forward and indicated to the pastor the name of himself and Mrs. Johnson one-third of $200,000 to an endowment fund for the church giving one-half the sum required, $100,000. In addition to this amount, it may be mentioned that Charles M. Stimson, another generous member of this church, gave the amount needed to complete the building on the campus, which bears his name."

"Just before the meeting of the General Assembly, the sad news came of Dr. Chichester's sudden death in Atlanta, Ga. It was a great sorrow and a bitter disappointment, as well, to a great multitude here in Los Angeles. For it was quite generally understood that this prince of pastors was to be chosen as moderator of the General Assembly when it met here in his own land. Immanuel Church and hundreds were deeply expectant of seeing his dear face and hearing his voice once more. But it was not to be."

"It would be idle to attempt a history of all the events that have made these twenty years memorable. The steady stream of enthusiastic, effective service has rolled on from year to year. The women have been tireless in their efforts. Only last year they were leaders in the work which resulted in the renovation and redecoration of our auditorium, which will last for years. During this anniversary week, there will be reminiscences and inspirational addresses which will interest and fill with mingled emotions of sadness and gladness every heart. Let it be my province to sum up the work as far as we are able to do these golden years."

"As to membership. Four thousand one hundred and forty souls have united with this church. One thousand, one hundred and twenty-four have stood before the altar and openly confessed their faith in Jesus Christ. Of this number about 224 remain on our rolls. Of the money expended in the building of the church, $100,000 for denominational expenses, $100,000 for denominational expenses, and $100,000 for denominational expenses, a total of $300,000 for benevolence."

PIOUS LAW BREAKERS.

BATTLE WITH POLICE FOR CAPTURED FLAG.

Mob of Sympathizers With Arrested Salvation Army Singers Nearly Causes Riot—First a Mass Meeting, Then Jail.

WITH yells of defiance, a mob of sympathizers charged, the police about 8 o'clock last night, when the Salvation Army singers were arrested, at Second and Main streets, on the charge of violating the street-cleaning ordinance, and wrested the flag from the hands of Sgt. Krieger and Patrolman Hodson. It was regained, however, from J. E. King, son of Mrs. Lucy King, a member of the corps, who was arrested and placed in the patrol wagon in spite of the protests of the crowd.

The mob followed the patrol wagon to the Police Station, jeering the police and shouting that the flag had been disgraced. When King rushed into the station and demanded the flag, he was ejected and the mob dispersed. A crowd of 500 people were awaiting the arrival of the Salvation Army at Second and Main streets. When the corps led by Maj. E. W. Campbell and the band started to march down Main street, Sgt. Krieger stopped them and announced that they were under arrest. The crowd which was only half a block away saw the action of the police and rushed up the street. The mob swarmed around the police and an effort was made to get away with it. After a lively struggle King gave up and the flag was placed in the patrol wagon.

When Sgt. Krieger took the flag from the hands of one of the members of the corps, King jumped in, followed by a gang of men. The flag was jerked out of the officer's hands and an effort was made to get away with it. After a lively struggle King gave up and the flag was placed in the patrol wagon.

On the way to the station the band played and the mob, which yelled for possession of the flag, followed shouting and jeering. Those arrested are: Maj. E. W. Campbell, Etta Bruce, Mrs. Lucy King, Joseph Bell, Paul Van Loan, A. H. McAllister, J. W. Moir, Peter Rasmussen, W. Vanhasslen, Morton Elwes, Mrs. Annie M. Smith, Mrs. E. W. Campbell, George R. Owen, H. C. Stonelocker, J. W. Bell, D. Raper, J. C. Mache, George A. Oliver, F. T. Poppenwell, J. M. Smith, John Darton, C. W. Pettit, S. W. Shaw and Charles Philip.

During the afternoon and before the arrests last evening, the members of the Salvation Army held a mass meeting in the "Citadel" on Hill street, at which those who have been arrested before told of their experiences and explained how glad they are to be made martyrs of in the cause of Christ.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WILLIAMS (Cal.) Oct. 4.—Frank Yarr, a workman in a sawmill near here, last night shot and killed John Anderson, a fellow-workman, and then turned his weapon upon himself.

When Handerson's body was found last night the news caused great excitement in this city, but it was delayed to wait until daylight before instituting a search for the murderer. Shortly after sunrise a constable and night man arrived at the scene of the shooting, four miles west of here. The tracks indicated that Valler had men behind a tree, awaiting Henderson's return from purchasing supplies. Willis. He allowed his victim to escape, and then cowardly shot him in the back, the body lying where it fell. Following Valler's footprints, the men came upon his body, 150 feet from the road. Examination showed that after taking poison, Valler had discharged both his revolver and shot

Both bodies were brought to William and a Coroner's jury rendered a verdict of murder and suicide.

Three other Walker children were so mortally wounded. Walker's oldest son is missing and it is believed he has been cremated in the burning building.

MANY LISTEN TO
NEW PASTORS.LARGE CONGREGATIONS ATTEND METHODIST CHURCHES.

Dr. Matthew Hughes Preaches Powerful Sermon—Tournament of Roses Association Directors Will Meet Tonight—Shakespeare Club Opens Season—Crown City Notes.

PASADENA, Oct. 4.—One of the largest congregations that ever gathered in the First Methodist Church was present at the morning service yesterday to hear Dr. Matt Hughes. The new pastor took for his theme, "Who is the Son of Man?"

Dr. Hughes went deeper into the origin, the why and the wherefore of the expression than perhaps any other man has in a local pulpit.

He brought up the thought that Christ, as the ideal of all that represents the best in manhood, took this title for Himself because He did not wish the people whom He came to reach to look upon Him as immortal, but to take Him as a brother, and as a son of man.

In speaking of the divinity of Christ, Dr. Hughes said that never in the history of the world has a man stood out with such singular characteristics as the man of Bethlehem. He referred to the great characters of history, each of whom was either working for the glory of his race or for some particular thought and in each case was the most highly esteemed by his own people. He said, "I appeal to every one to the little child who has the story on his mother's knee, to the old man who to the middle-aged persons, regarded as the father of the race, in this universality of loyalty to the Savior which marks Him as the greatest man of history, exerting an influence that is not temporary but is spreading with the centuries. A character which is never identified with one particular place or country, but who is best known to the mass of all countries, meaning much to the Indian or the African as to the white or yellow race."

Dr. Hughes in closing said that was Christ's idea to reach all classes of the scholar and the dullard, the educated and the uneducated, rich and poor, and to bring all to the same level of his own humble spirit, the man not to be exalted because he was the son of God, but because he had a mission among men and wished to spread the people of the world as the son of man, on a common level.

At the La Brea Avenue Methodist Church, Rev. S. G. Stevens preached for the first time since being transferred here as pastor from Santa Monica.

Rev. Frederick Miller took up his work at the North Pasadena Methodist Church yesterday morning.

A large audience was present and the new minister preached a strong sermon.

Tonight Rev. J. C. Elliott, who goes to the Haven Church in Los Angeles, will be tendered a farewell reception by members of his former congregation.

TOURNAMENT MEETING. The members of the Tournament of Roses Association will meet tonight at the Board of Trade rooms for the purpose of settling on the future of the parade and the general management of the park in the afternoon. The directors feel that they can no longer continue to give the parade unless the funds from the sports in the park are forthcoming. Under the present condition in which the park is, they think it is cheating the public to ask money for admission and not furnish seats from which it is possible to view the events.

The building of an additional grandstand at a cost of $5000, on the opposite side of the track from the present one, seems to be the only possible solution. Another may be suggested by the special committee of the directors, who were appointed for that purpose shortly after the bonds of $50,000 which were asked by the association to improve the park, failed to carry.

Not only members of the association but those interested in the park are asked to attend the meeting this evening.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY. In Masonic Temple tonight, Pasadena Lodge No. 272, A. M., will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization with a fitting programme. The evening is to be known as past master's night, and all of the surviving pastmasters will meet.

Henry Ramey, Romayne, Charles A. Gardner, C. H. Hartwell, Adoniram R. Bates, Luth. G. Brown, Charles W. Buchanan, William H. Clapp, Lewis R. Taylor, Orren H. Hayes, James Edmundson, Albert H. Mercer and E. C. May. The surviving pastmasters will be: J. H. Herbert. The only pastmaster who will not be present is Oscar Freeman, who is now in the East. The local lodge was organized in 1852.

A business meeting will be held at 8 o'clock p. m. and the banquet will be served at 9 o'clock.

SOCIETY NOTES. Miss Ellen Lowry of South Marengo avenue was the hostess at one of the prettiest five-hundred parties of the fall season, Saturday afternoon. Live and three were served. The dinner was served at 12:30 and the tables were arranged for the games. Later a collection was served at the card tables. Those present were: Misses Arthur Holliday, Harry Hough, Frank da Silva, Walter Hader, O'Connor, John Shank, Earl Nash, John D. Holmes, Benjamin Whitworth, William Morgan, Don Stahl, George Russell, Morgan da Silva, Misses Byrd McLean, Dorella Paul, Florence Gifford, Grace Tower, Jessie Earley, Marguerite da Silva, Gertrude and Elma French.

Miss Minnie Wood of North Madison avenue entertained Saturday afternoon with an informal tea complimentary to Mrs. John Walker Pindley of Redford, Ind., who has been a guest of her mother, Mrs. Crispy, for several weeks and will return home today.

Mrs. J. R. Clifton of East Colorado street gave a pretty-appointed noon luncheon Saturday complimentary to Mrs. J. R. Pinkerton, a September bride, who was formerly Mrs. Mary Eaton of Rockford, Ill. Colette Bruner roses ornamented the table and all the accessories were in pale pink with touches of rose. Covers were laid for twelve.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB MEETING. Two hundred and fifty members of the Shakespeare Club gathered yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse for the festive of president's day. The leading feature of the programme was the address of the new president, Miss Lauretta Barnaby, who in a scholarly paper, outlined the scope, purpose, responsibility and results of the woman's club. Following the discussion of the general club work, the privilege of discussion and possibilities of the local organization were reviewed. So much peaked were the members with the value of the address that it was as once voted to have it printed as a club document, each member to have one for reference and study. Reports were given by Mrs. Calvin Hartwell and Miss Barnaby of the enjoyable meeting held Friday at Riverside for the purpose of opening the large new clubhouse there.

At the close of the formal programme in the auditorium, tea was served in the reception room. Mrs. J. Reynolds and Miss Susan H. Stickeney presiding, assisted by a group of the young women. A number of improvements were noted with approval the west awnings over windows and door adding much to the comfort of those using those rooms during the afternoon. Freshly cleaned for the busy club season, the home of the club looked its prettiest, attractive decorations of ferns and pink roses being used throughout the building. Next Saturday will be the first business meeting of the club, to be followed by a social hour. On the 17th inst., a programme of "Characteristics of American, English, Irish and Scotch Humor" will be given by the club. This will be reciprocity day, when the members of the Long Beach Club will be guests of the local club; the first inst. will be the first book day of the year.

PASADENA BREVITIES. Work has started on the new Smithsonian Institute building on Mt. Wilson, which will be used for the study of the sun.

Members of the Pasadena Realty Board will gather at La Casa Grande Hotel this evening at 8 o'clock for their annual meeting. The meeting will adjourn early so that all may attend the meeting of the Tournament of Roses Association at the same time.

C. M. Richmond, former director of the boys' work in the local Y.M.C.A., will leave this morning, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Richmond, for McAllister, Okla., and on November 1 he expects to take up his duties with the Y.M.C.A. at Dallas, where a new building is nearly completed.

"WILL OIL DISTRICT INCLUDE SAWTELLE?" THEY ASK.

Proquing Territory Rapidly Approaching City Limits on the East. Asphalt Pool Was Reported by State Geologist in the Early Sixties.

SAWTELLE, Oct. 4.—Local property owners, who are interested in the recovery of ancient bones in the bed deposits of the Salt Lake oil fields, are still more concerned over the rapidly with which the producing territory is approaching the city limits on the east.

The plan to encroach on the territory that were in contemplation have been passed over in a number of instances by reason of either the fear or hope that the oil district may be extended to include Sawtelle.

Local people who have investigated have learned that J. D. Whitney, State Geologist, went over portions of this territory in the early '60s. He referred in his report to the asphalt pool that is just now very much in the public eye. He said that the asphalt pool that most of the asphaltum used in Los Angeles for paving and roofing purposes was obtained.

"A very large amount of the hard-asphaltum," says the report, "mixed with sand and the bones of cattle and birds, which have become entangled in it, is scattered over the plain. Before 1880 the experiment of shipping it to San Francisco for the purpose of utilizing burning oil from it had been tried, without success, at least in a pecuniary point of view."

LURED INTO POOL. In a 1907 bulletin of the United States Geological Survey treating of this subject, the geologist are referred to as having been an excellent opportunity for studying the asphalt pools, which, at the time of their visits, were practically untouched. In the bulletin it is stated that a considerable number of young men, who were present, may indicate that the younger and less experienced were easily lured into the pool. It is stated that in a considerable number of cases large parts of the skeletons are found together, showing that the carcasses were entangled so quickly that there was not sufficient time for decomposition to permit separation of the parts.

The Salt Lake field took its name from the entrance of the Salt Lake Oil Company into that territory in 1890. Since that time the field has been producing wells are found at depths varying all the way from 1200 to over 3100 feet, the deeper wells as a rule being the lighter oil. Individual wells produce from twenty to more than 1000 barrels per day, although one of the last guinea brought in is said to have flowed 22,000 barrels per day for a time.

Without attempting to venture a prediction, the bulletin says it seems probable that the productive zone of the Salt Lake field extends northward and possibly little westward from the territory then developed. "Were it not for the great thickness of Pleistocene sand and gravel, which covers the great Los Angeles plain from the Santa Monica mountains to the ocean," concludes the author of the bulletin, "the oil-bearing strata could be developed over this plain. At least it is almost certain that the oil-bearing strata underlie it."

COVINA. COVINA, Oct. 4.—C. C. Behanan, a rancher of Covina, who is now operating upon at the Sherris Hospital, Los Angeles, for appendicitis, yesterday. No hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Stanton Brothers & Keeling have sold their ten-acre orange grove, known as the "Orange Grove," to J. W. G. Little of Pomona, formerly of this town. The old Potter homestead, owned by P. A. Dotter, has been bought by C. W. Potter, who will improve it. The price was $14,000.

Walter Arnel and Mrs. Mary Pearson, who were married Wednesday by Justice Marshall, have taken up residence on Cottage Drive.

Cards, Chips, Money and Men Are Taken to Station—Angelo Goes to Visit Wife When He Thought Was Nursing Invalid and Finds Her With Faithless Friend.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 4.—Chief Williams and Sgt. Kutz and Phillips made a rather spectacular raid after midnight on a poker game which has been operating for some time in room 10 of the Woodmen building, corner of Third street and Pine avenue. The location of the joint was tipped off to the police yesterday by a young man who had been fleeing of 27, playing "black jack." The three officers made a descent on the place last night, and by means of chairs and soap boxes burst the game for some time through the transom. Then with a mighty heave of his shoulders, the big Chief burst the door open, and with the aid of his men, the three officers, caught with cards, chips and money on the table, were badly demoralized, and went up quickly. After securing the evidence, the prisoners were taken to jail, where they gave the names of Frank Piccato, Oscar Banton, Jack Schaefer, and Robert Johnson. Subsequently, they were released on cash bail of $5 each.

FINDS WIFE WITH FRIEND. C. J. Hentchel was arrested last night, charged with adultery. Back of this is a more serious accusation. A. H. Ward, an employee of the Los Angeles gas works, came to Long Beach yesterday evening to see his wife, whom he thought was nursing a sick friend. But when he saw his wife and his friend Hentchel the latter he supposed was the San Francisco man, he was sitting supper together. Ward didn't wait, but went to the police with his suspicions. Last night the police raided the house and found the police raiding the same room. Only the presence of the police prevented Ward from taking Hentchel.

HARBOR WORK. New Year's Day has been fixed by the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company for the opening of the ocean entrance to the big artificial harbor on the 300 acres of salt marsh in the western part of the city. Work on the big drawbridge of the Salt Lake Railroad, over the San Gabriel river, is being pushed rapidly. The bridge, which will be the longest of its kind in the world, will be 600 feet long and 100 feet wide. It will be built of steel and will be the longest of its kind in the world. J. H. Steiman, an advertising agent who lives at No. 229 West First street, fell over a banister early yesterday morning and sustained a severe contusion of his right hip. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

"Coffin-nail" Habit.
So great a slave to the "coffin-nail" habit is Peter Green, that he committed burglary early yesterday morning in order to secure the cigarettes he was unable to buy. He got the "smokes" at the cigar stand of McDewitt & Doyle at No. 524 South Spring street.

Matress Poor Safe.
Ray Darst of No. 520 Baucher street reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered in his absence and $20 stolen. He had been hiding his money under his mattress. A pass key was used in opening the door and the room was ransacked thoroughly.

Pitched a Bone-breaker.
D. Sheppard of No. 740 North Hill street fractured his right arm yesterday morning by pitching a ball in a game at Ascot Park. He had been playing for some time before the accident and when he served up a particularly swift one with an inbred curve on it, there was a snap loud enough to be heard all over the field. He was cared for at the Receiving Hospital.

Lake Tahoe Lecture.
Tonight's meeting of the Southern California Academy of Sciences, to be held at 8 o'clock at Symphony Hall, No. 22 S. Hill street, will be the first regular session of the season. One hundred lantern views of Lake Tahoe and its vicinity will be shown, and William H. Kneib will supplement the exhibition with historical data and a scientific theory of the geological origin of the Tahoe region.

"Instantaneous" Fire.
While Dr. G. D. Struder was preparing to take a bath yesterday afternoon at his home, No. 1406 Santee street, the instantaneous heater exploded, causing a fire. Before the flames were extinguished the cottage was damaged to the extent of $500, and the loss on the contents was placed at $250. Dr. Struder escaped without injury, and rushed into the street, giving the alarm. With the assistance of neighbors, considerable furniture was saved.

Autoists Lucky.
In a collision between a two-seated Rambler automobile and a Seventh-street car, near the postoffice yesterday afternoon, the auto was smashed and the car slightly injured. Strangely the occupants escaped death or damage. Dr. A. J. Rohman was driving the machine, and his companion was Dr. L. E. Landone of No. 204 Hollywood avenue, who is president of the Los Angeles Institute of Applied Arts and Sciences. While Dr. Rohman and Landone were somewhat shaken up, they were not hurt.

Girl Violates Parole.
Ethel Magnusson, 17 years old, was arrested last night for violating her parole, and will be taken back to the industrial school at Whittier today. About two weeks ago, she was released from the school on parole, and had found her position in Los Angeles, and produced letters to convince the superintendent of this. The police believe the letters were written by a companion to assist her in securing probation. Since Miss Magnusson came to Los Angeles, she has been associating with young men and women who patronize dance halls and cafes.

SLUM WORK IN LONDON.

Y.M.C.A. Members Hear of How Dr. Bernardo Saved Fifty Thousand Children.

Dr. George Soltan of London, England, was the speaker at the men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon. He spoke of the work of the late Dr. T. J. Bernardo in the slums of London. "I was a personal friend of his," stated the speaker, "and am glad to testify to the wonderful work among the poor children of that great city. During his life, he rescued over 50,000 children who had been reared in the lowest slums and he was instrumental in making good men and women out of the poor wretches with whom he labored."

Dr. Soltan gave a graphic picture of the life led by the children in the poorer quarters of London and showed how little chance there was for the boys and girls to grow up into respectable men and women.

In concluding the speaker urged the men to draw near to God, who could lead them out of sin and make them clean, strong citizens.

PAVE WAY FOR BIG REVIVAL.

Church Federation Workers Discuss Campaign.

Dr. Baer Tells of Torrey's Evangelistic Power.

Review of Year's Activities in Gospel Field.

If one-half the earnest preachers prove true of a great spiritual revival for Los Angeles beginning November 8, when Dr. Torrey will open his religious campaign, next month will be long remembered among local Christians for unusual works of righteousness.

Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, outlined the coming Torrey campaign, at the annual meeting of the Church Federation of Los Angeles, held yesterday at Temple Auditorium. Dr. Baer declared that the coming campaign will overshadow any revival heretofore known in this city. He told several thousand dedicated Christians who were present that Dr. Torrey's watchwords are "Christ! Cooperation! Conquest!" and concluded his spirited talk by urging all present to make these words their watchword, from that moment forth to welcome in the reign of righteousness.

"Our Church Federation," said Dr. Baer, "is saturated with Christ. The need of the hour is not for a new gospel, but for more gospel, more of the good, old-fashioned, self-sufficient, satisfying gospel; and Dr. Torrey is the strong man who will lead the forces of right."

"The platform of the Church Federation of Los Angeles is so broad that every person within sound of my voice can set his feet squarely upon it and square his shoulders to the broad heavens," As Dr. Baer said this, with fervor, he looked heavenward.

"We stand on the Bible," he continued, "and with an inspired book, without one word of apology."

MAN OF NO "ISMS." He characterized Dr. Torrey as a man of no religious "isms," higher criticism or higher cynicism, but a plain, God-fearing Christian who believes in heaven and hell; an evangelist whose fervor of word, whose logic and whose work wonders against the forces of evil.

"The campaign is for God!" urged the speaker, impressively.

Dr. Baer went on to tell that already extraordinary preparations have been made for the coming Torrey revival by the federated churches, their pastors and workers.

"The city of Los Angeles is to be turned upside down till it is right side up for God," he declared with impressive emphasis. "We need a holy campaign here, at this time."

He then went on to tell, in detail, of erring sons brought to the straight path; daughters restored to Christian life; church members quickened with the thought of God's holy promises; the drunkard rescued from the gutter; and many other spiritual miracles that will come to pass when the great evangelist, a sort of modern Peter the Hermit, preaches against sin.

MANY CHURCH WORKERS. Dr. Baer's strong address marked the conclusion of a spirited meeting of the Church Federation. There were nearly 100 well-known church workers, including many church-federated pastors, on the platform. Rev. E. P. Ryland, president of the Federation, led the religious services. The music was under direction of J. B. Poulin, with an organ solo by J. J. Falls and a vocal solo by Rev. P. McKnight. Dr. Walker took charge of raising a fund of $1000 for the Church Federation. The sum was contributed in less than half an hour. To stimulate interest a blackboard was used, marked with 100 squares, each representing $10.
